

Vollagen® is a vegan alternative to collagen produced using a proprietary, multi-step fermentation and microencapsulation process with a starting material of non-GMO corn starch. Unlike traditional collagen, which is from animal sources, Vollagen® is 100% plant-origin. Vollagen yields the amino acids in same proportions as human collagen, without the animal origin or hydrolysis processing needed making them easy to absorb in the body. Vollagen® directly delivers the complex of amino acids for the body to utilize and helps stimulate the body's creation of further collagen.
